

Appendix 1: Orbital CT scan (A) showing enophthalmos and an ill-defined mass in the antero-superior orbit (arrow) infiltrating the eyelids and orbital septum on the left side. A biopsy showed nests of infiltrating tumor cells at low (10x magnification; left) and high power (40x magnification; right); immunohistochemistry confirmed the cells to be HER2 negative and estrogen-receptor positive metastatic breast carcinoma.

